BOND ISSUE ORDINANCE REPEALED

Two New Ordinances Presented in Place of Old One

CITY COUNCIL ACTS

Done to Conform to Opinion of Attorneys of Bond House—Banks Seek to Recover Assessment on Stock

At a called meeting of both branches of city council last night the ordinance adopted last July by both branches of the city council providing for a bond issue in the sum of $300,000, known as street improvement and general fund bonds was repealed, and two new ordinance to take its place were read and referred to the finance committee. Another meeting of common council will be held next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of acting on the two new ordinances.

E. F. Tiser, chairman of the finance committee made a statement as to why the change was necessary and he explained what would have to be done in order to legally conform to the opinion of the attorneys representing the bonding house that had purchased the recent issue of $300,000 of bonds.

One of the ordinances provides for a bond issue of $300,000 of bonds to be known as street improvement bonds and the other provides for the issuance of $1[illegible],000 of bonds to be known as gas plant improvement bonds.

Corporation Attorney H. Noel Garner submitted a communication on behalf of the three national banks for a correction of the assessment on bank stock for the year 1921 and for a refund on the assessment of bank stock for the years 1919 and 1920 and it was referred to the finance committee.

M. T. Dwyer was elected clerk in the absence of Clerk D. R. Stansbury.

FINDS ELOPING WIFE AND MAN IN PRISON; BUYS FOOD FOR PAIR

New York, Sept. 17.—Marcel Robin has forgiven his wife for eloping from their home in Montreal with a "millionaire," his Belgian police dog and three trunks filled with the family silver. Mr. Robin had his wife and a man who told the police he was Monte Lesserts, of Montreal, arrested at a fashionable hotel here yesterday.

Lesserts and Mrs. Robin, who is young and attractive, were brought before Magistrate Corrigan in Yorkville Court. The magistrate ordered them taken to the Federal Commissioner to see if the Commissioner wanted to extradite them. As nobody in the Commissioner's office took action, they were locked up to be arraigned again this morning.

Mr. Robin said at first he wanted his wife severely punished. Later he thought one day in prison would be enough. Mr. Robin is gallant and young and different from a lot of husbands. His wife told him the affair was only a lark, and so he forgave her. He said:

"For a happy life you must give pardon. Maybe tomorrow it might be myself."

So when his wife and Mr. Lesserts, whose real name is said to be something else, returned from the Federal building, Mr. Robin went out and bought them peaches and cream, soup coffee, sandwiches, cheese and cakes.

PARLEY IS EXPECTED ON IRELAND

Both Sides Believe Lloyd George Will Yield Point

SOLDIERS KILL TWO

Definite Solution Looked For Very Soon—Press Praises De Valera's Diplomacy—Now up Lloyd George

Belfast, Sept. 17.—The crack of rifle fire again resounded throughout the night in the Vere street district, where considerable sniping took place. A boy was wounded and a man bayoneted through the stomach on the charge that he was interfering with soldiers trying to make arrests.

London, Sept. 17.—All Britain looked with intense expectancy today to Premier Lloyd George, who can either open wide or slam shut the door to peace negotiations with Ireland.

The general feeling throughout the United Kingdom was that the weekend would definitely "make or break" peace in Ireland, and since both Eamon de Valera and the British prime minister have set forth their positions in voluminous correspondence, it was believed they would be in a position to get together with their "faces saved."

Consequently, the day opened with optimistic predictions that Lloyd George would reply to de Valera's telegram of yesterday by reissuing the invitation to a new peace conference.

It appeared certain that the next twelve hours would decide the whole question one way or the other, the premier himself having declared emphatically a week ago that "this correspondence has lasted long enough."

The press conceded, with uncon cealed admiration for De Valera's diplomatic tactics, that the Sinn Fein chieftain has dexterously countered an attempt by the British premier to throw the onus of a break-up of negotiations upon the Sinn Fein's shoulders.

By sending to the prime minister yesterday a shrewdly worded telegram amounting in sum, to saying "We are still willing," the Irish republican president, it is declared, hurled the responsibility for a break right back at Lloyd George, and it is now the latter's move.

RUM DELIVERED LIKE MILK HERE, IS CHARGE

Atlantic City, Sept. 17.—"Liquor is being delivered to the wealthy families living in the suburbs of Philadelphia exactly the same as they are getting their milk and bread," said Customs Inspector Reynolds, of the Philadelphia Customs House, in discussing the activities of rum smugglers here today.

"Trucks and wagons every morning take them our their booze," he continued. "They order it over telephone and in the morning their order is left in the place designated by them."

STATE NEWS

Charlottesville—The bronze group, in which Robert Aitken epitomizes the adventure of achievement of the noted Virginian, George Rogers Clark, in exploring and acquiring the Northwest territory, has been received here and will be placed on the pedestal which was prepared for it nearly a year ago. The base, which is of polished granite, is 26 feet long and bears the simple inscription: "George Rogers Clark, Conqueror of the North west." There are seven figures in the group. Clark, on horseback, is in the center and dominates the group. He is parleying with two Indian chiefs whose distrust or enmity is shown in every feature, and especially in their pose, in which their backs are partly turned on the explorer and his Virginians. Clark's party is represented by three figures in typical hunter garb. Two of them held their flintlocks in readiness for defense, or in threat. The third figure is posed over a barrel of powder. The supply of powder, perhaps, is intended to show the superiority of the white man in offense and defense over the Indian, who seem disposed to be hostile, although they do not display arms. It is evidently a tense moment. The young squaw, the third Indian figure, is holding up her baby in apparent realization that she is in a sence of danger and that the child may invite mercy from the invaders.

Charlottesville—Dr. Louis B. Wilson, director of the Mayo Foundation for medical education and research, professor of pathology in the University of Minnesota and a recognized authority on matters of medical education, has refused to give his unqualified endorsement to the majority report of the Medical Commission of Virginia but favors the retention of the medical school at the University of Virginia. Dr. Wilson suggests the establishment in Richmond of a great graduate school would draw its students from medical schools throughout the country. He believes the plan if followed would within ten years put Virginia at the head of the other states in medical education. His views were expressed in some detail in a recent letter to Dean Theodore Hough of the medical department of the University.

Charlottesville—President Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia, arrived last night from Rocky Point Inn, Inlet, N. Y., where he has been spending the summer, to be present at the opening today of the first session of the university since its centennial celebration last June. Registration of students will continue through tomorrow and Saturday and lectures in all departments will begin Monday the 19th.

Richmond—From the State Auditor's office this morning were mailed 9,577 checks to Confederate pensioners, amounting to $381,617, constituting the regular semi-annual payment Somewhat more than half the checks went to widows of Confederate veterans. A few years ago two-thirds of the checks were for veterans and only one-third for widows. As time passes the number of widows increases and the number of soldiers on the rolls decreases, The average age of widows of soldiers is less than that of the men who went to war.

Richmond—With his right hand imprisoned in a coal car hopper, Samuel Staffey sat for two hours yesterday while workers at Staunton used an acetylene torch to burn the metal from around his hand. As soon as he was released Staffey was taken to a hospital. He lost two fingers, while the rest of his hand was badly mangled.

Newport News—Airplanes from Langley field plunging downward in darkness, last night buried hundreds of bombs at a small target located near Mulberry island, preparatory to attacking the lodbasplttelhethl oba attacking the old battleship Alabama next week. Norfolk—Norfolk Post, American Legion, will investigate alleged discrimination against former service men and American seamen by officers of the United States Shipping Board's fleet lying near Camp Eustis, as the result of complaints filed with the legion last night by Americans working on the fleet. It was charged that foreign seamen, including some Germans, have received preference by officers of the fleet, two of whom were alleged to be of alien extraction. The steel fleet consists of nearly 800 vessels, most of which have been lying idle for nearly a year. A committee was appointed by the legion commander, to investigate thoroughly the charges, which if verified will be taken up with high officials of the shipping board.

ARBUCKLE TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

Funds Are Raised to Help Prosecute Fat Comedian

MAY LOSE $25,000 AUTO

Hopes of Freedom Blasted—Seek Physician Who Attended Miss Rappe—Trial in Three Weeks

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—With the formal announcement today that Roscoe C. (Fatty") Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, wold be prosecuted on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, actress, following a Labor Day party in the actor's hotel rooms both the prosecution and defense squared away last night to arrange for the trial, the first chapter of which will be written next Thursday, when the prisoner will enter a plea

When District Attorney Matthew Brady, in the court of Police Judge Sylvian Lazarus yesterday announced that "the people are ready to proceed on the murder charge," he blasted hopes of the defense that Arbuckle would be at liberty last night on $5,000 bond, set by the court, when a grand jury indictment charging the defendant with manslaughter was returned. It was indicated that the prosecution's decision to go to trial on the murder charge was a surprise to the defense From Los Angeles come reports that Arbuckle already had made train reservations for a trip from San Francisco to that city yesterday evening. Murder is not a bailable charge in California. The reservations, if made, cannot be used.

District Attorney Brady has the support of the Board of County Supervisors in his prosecution of Arbuckle, it was shown yesterday when the finance committee of that body appropriated $1,000 for immediate expenses of the trial and promised more when needed. Brady had asked the board for additional funds, declaring much wealth would be expended by the defense.

Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, who swore to the murder charge on which Arbuckle yesterday appeared in court, viewed Miss Rappe's body yesterday and is reported to have suffered a partial collapse. The body was shipped last night to Los Angeles on the Lark, a Southern Pacific express train.

Robert H. McCormack, Assistant United States Attorney General, in charge of liquor prohibition prosecutions said he expected to present to the Federal grand jury Tuesday evidence that liquor was served and consumed at the party given by Arbuckle, in which Miss Rappe was alleged to have received her fatal injuries.

In addition to his other troubles Arbuckle may suffer the loss of his custom made automobile, said to have cost $25,000. Government officials say if it is shown that liquor was transported from Los Angeles to this city in the automobile it is liable to confiscation.

Subpoenas were issued yesterday summoning Lowell Sherman and Fred Fishback, declared to have been guests at the party, to appear before the United States grand jury here.

Sherman and Fishback were questioned yesterday concerning liquor alleged to have been consumed at the Arbuckle party. According to Robert Camarillo, Assistant United States Attorney, Fishback said more than 40 quarts of liquor were consumed in three days at the Arbuckle apartments.

Sherman was released yesterday from a contract with a large motion picture production company here.

A development today was the announcement that Dr. Arthur Beardsley, house physician at the St. Francis Hotel and the physician who first attended Miss Rappe, is being sought by the authorities. Milton T. U'Ren, Assitant District Attorney, anounced late yesterday that he had not been located and asked the newspapers to assist in the search. Dr. Beardsley is wanted for the purpose of giving testimony before the grand jury regarding certain phases of the medical attention given Miss Rappe, U'Ren said.

Bigger crowds than usual greeted Arbuckle's public appearance yesterday. A few moments before his case was called in police court for a preliminary hearing, on one of the murder charges the crowd, mostly men, attempted to rush through the doors. They were held back by police. Members of the Women's Vigilant Committee, formed for the purpose of assisting the police and prosecuting officials of the city in maintaining law and order, were present at the court hearing.

Following the court session District Attorney Brady gave out a statement in which he explained the reasons for his determination to press the finance committee of the County Board of Supervisors for a special fund with which to prosecute Arbuckle, he said::

CARUSO'S WIDOW GETS ONLY $75,000 FROM HIS ESTATE

New York, Sept. 17.—Bruno Ziriato, who was secretary to the late Enrico Caruso, announced today that an adjustment, satisfactory to every one concerned, had been made of the estate left by the famous tenor. The former secretary said that the estate, hitherto estimated at more than $1,000,000, would amount to only $600,000.

The settlement distributes the estate as follows:

To Mrs. Enrico Caruso, his wife, $75,000.

To Gloria Caruso, his daughter, $75,000.

To Enrico Caruso, Jr., and Rodolfo Caruso, natural sons, $75,000 each.

To Giovona Caruso, brother, $300,000, or one half of the estate, with the understanding that he will provide for Caruso's stepmother and other dependents in Italy.

Royalists which will result from the phonograph records and other rights will be distributed under the same general terms of agreement.

Mrs. Caruso, formerly Miss Dorothy Park Benjamin, agrees, according to teh announcement, not to file for probate a will which makes Gloria Caruso the sole beneficiary. The agreement is reached to avoid a conflict due to the Italian statutes with respect to the rights of natural children. The Italian law does not permit the father of such children to devise his property to their exclusion

The settlement has been prepared for sanction of the court at Sorrento, Italy, which has probate jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Sept. 17.—Washington boarding house keepers still retain all of their resourcefulness in taking care of big throngs that invade the National Capital.

Today there were on file at the State Department countless letters from owners and lessees of large houses in Washington offering to throw them open to the thousands of delegates who are to swarm into Washington for the big arms parley November 11.

Many of the tenders of these offers have made fortunes in years gone by, and some of them maintain at least a dozen of such establishments. The number of boarding houses grew when the war brought an influx of war workers to Washington and made terrific demands upon the capacity of Washington households.

The State Department regards a number of these offers as a Godsend for the officials charged with responsibility for the care of the delegates have been finding it difficult to make adequate reservations for the various delegations. It is not difficult to lease temporarily luxurious quarters for the "Big Fours" but it is quite a different matter to finding housing accommodations for the staffs of the delegates. Some of the staffs number 500 or more.

What Is Wrong With Liquor Law?

Alexandria "drys" and "wets" have a mutual interest in the record which Prohibition Commissioner Haynes today ordered all of his State Directors to compile. He wants to know what is wrong with liquor law enforcement. If he can find out, it is his purpose to lay the record before the American people. He thinks that something is radically out of gear in matters of enforcement in practically every state, and he is determined to find out what is loose in the machinery. That something is loose, he is fully convinced. He does not seem to know what it is, but the fact remains that the Volstead law, is not being accepted throughout the country in the manner, desired by the Federal prohibition authorities.

Mr. Haynes is disturbed over the way juries are acjuitting offenders arraigned under the Voistead law. He finds that whatever his agents may do there always exists the strong probability that juries will fail to convict. His record today showed an amazingly low percentage of convictions in the cases presented by District Attorneys. There also is believed to be great laxity among law enforcers, and it is his purpose to correct this fault in the administration, if it is possible.

Mr. Haynes sent out a questionnaire which will bring back the most complete stack of data ever compiled to show just how the American people feel about prohibition. His questions touch every angle of prohibition enforcement, and go minutely into the demoralization in matters of rum. He is determined to go to the bottom of the situation. He had demanded that full answers be forthcoming immediately, with respect to inefficiency and other factors, weighing against dry law success.

BASELESS RUMORS

The recent conflagration at the plants of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation and the Mutual Ice Company, is believed by the authorities to owe its origin to incendiaries. Many rumors are afloat, naturally, among them being an absurd report that those responsible for the fires were workmen out of work, who hoped to obtain jobs in the necessary reconstruction that would result. We think this, however, too flimsy and improbable a theory to consider for a minute. It is a slander upon the working classes of Alexandria that should be refuted with all emphasis. We have none such in our midst and to merely repeat the insinuation is to do grave injustice to a very worthy element of our community. Our own opinion is that the fires may have been due to some of the idlers and loafers who infest the city, and who committed the crime from sheer wantonness, or in a drunken orgy, or from no motive at all. It is certainly to be hoped that the perpetrators may be caught and made an example of.

AN AMERICAN'S CREED

At the third annual state convention of the American Legion, in Norfolk a few days since, there was adopted a resolution calling upon the State Board of Education to require an American's Creed to be recited in the opening exercises of all the public schools. We think the creed adopted at the Convention, could be improved upon in its wording all through. It bears the appearance of having been somewhat hastily prepared. We heartily approve both the sentiment and the practice. But we should prefer that no emphasis be placed upon American patriots sacrificing their fortunes; that has just a little sordid touch that seems out of place. Another expression that we do not exactly like, is the expression, "I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it," etc. Love is not a matter of duty; it has a more spontaneous origin. It in fact arises before the child comprehends the meaning of the word "duty."

These criticisms, however, are not of importance. As stated, we thoroughly approve the idea and would be glad to see the suggestion universally adopted in the schools.

DISARMAMENT AND INDUSTRY

That American manufacturers and business men and women endorse the Presidential call for an International conference to consider, among other questions, the reduction or armaments is unquestioned.

They thoroughly appreciate the vast burden of government taxes. Every reduction in government expenditures to that extent lessens the taxes imposed and adds a corresponding sum to the amounts available for business extention and improvement.

The steel industry itself would benefit. Limitation of armament would release funds for the purchase of construction material, railway equipment and factory machinery. The stimulus in these industries would still further encourage these and other enterprises.

Certainly it is far better for the permanent prosperity of our nation and of the world to have money put in factories, mines and railways, than to have it spent on instruments of war which in a few years must become obsolete.

Complete disarmament is not proposed. Prudence and the necessity for national insurance will prevent this. But with an appreciable limitation of armaments by the leading nations of the world there will arise a beter international understanding which should aid in making taxes for war purposes an even lessening proportion of total national expenditures.

American industry will welcome practicable limitationo f armaments as one step in the reduction of business-stifling taxes. All such reductions stimulate business enterprise, encourage production, decrease unemployment, and increase sales. The benefits of increased prosperity reach every corner of our land and bring confusion to the agitator and preacher of discord.—American Industries.

The Pike's Peak hill-climb contests were divided into three separate events, according to the piston displacement of the entries. Hudson was entered in only one. But its time of 19 min. 16.2 sec. was faster than any other car ever made the course, regardless of class or price, except another Super-Six special, which set the unequalled record of 18 min. 24 sec.

AGAIN
HUDSON WINS
at Pike's Peak

Breaks All Time Records Except Its Own

A Hudson Super-Six special, entered and driven by the Hudson dealer of Oshkosh, Neb., again won the Pike's Peak hill-climb classic up the highest road in the world, defeating teams of much costlier cars, driven by such noted professionals as Ralph Mulford and others.

Hudson won the Penrose cup for the fastest time of any car in the three events. Hudson's time was 19 min. 16.2 seconds. This time has never been equalled except by another Hudson Super-Six special, which in 1916 set the record for the course of 18 min. 24 seconds.

That record still stands despite the fact that time after time the costliest special cars have struggled to match it.

Isn't it convincing evidence of Hudson's superiority, that a car entered and driven by a dealer, so decisively defeated the specially built, professionally driven teams that the makers of costlier cars sent out to win?

Arbuckle must appear in the court of Superior Judge Harold Louderback today to be arraigned on one of the two manslaughter charges against him. The charge is that voted by the grand jury Wednesday. 'TIS A SHAME

Editor "Gazette."

Will the High School students be compelled to wade to school through another winter. Why cannot our city at least pave one square of street for its children? The worst square in Alexandria, we dare say, is that on on West street between King and Cameron. And that self-same square is the one over which over four hundred of your children travel at the least, twice daily, five days per week for thirty-six weeks in each year, or three hundred and sixty times each school year, or fourteen hundred times they journey this miserable lane in the four years of obtaining a High School education. Now, just why can't the patrons of the school bring enough pressure to bear upon the City Council to see that this terrible state of affairs is remedied? Think of it, patrons, as tax payers in this city, as citizens of this municipality can't you see to it that your children walk to school on concrete each day instead of wading? One poor man would be exceeding glad, we are sure—the janitor! Now look at this street and ask yourselves if this thing ought so to be.

The weekly assembly was held opened Monday, Sept. 12, with a gratifyingly large enrollment. So large Wednesday morning. There are still a number of copies of the final edition of the Last Lap available. Anyone desiring to obtain one may get terms from Richard Wright.

MARRIES SEVENTH TIME, ALL WIVES WERE SISTERS

Atlantic, Iowa, Sept. 17.—Fred Harris, 90, has just married his seventh wife. All his wives were daughters of Peter Yost, who lived in Milwaukee, Wis., and sailed a freighter on the Great Lakes in the sixties.

Harris began by marrying the oldest daughter of Yost and has gone right down the line. The last five were widows. Mrs. Gustave Eidlemann is the last bride and she is now 78 years old. Her husband, a farmer, perished in the Minnesota forest fires of 1918. She had been married twice before.

Harris, who was a hack driver and later driver of a horse car in Chicago following the great fire, recently bought a small fruit farm here on which to pass his remaining years.

MEXICO CELEBRATES 100 YEARS OF INDEPENDENCE

Mexico City, Sept. 17.—The one hundredth anniversary of the proclamation of Mexico's independence was celebrated here yesterday with parades and other festivities such as have marked the centennial festival in progress since the early part of the month. The celebration was ushered in at midnight by the usual anniversary demonstration in the downtown district, culminating in the ringing by President Obregon of the historic bell of Hidalgo and reading the independence proclamation.

The daytime festivities were begun with a visit by President Obregon to the Cathedral, where he deposited wreaths on the urns containing the ashes of national heroes. Shortly before noon he received a parade of thirteen battalions of infantry and presented each unit with a flag.

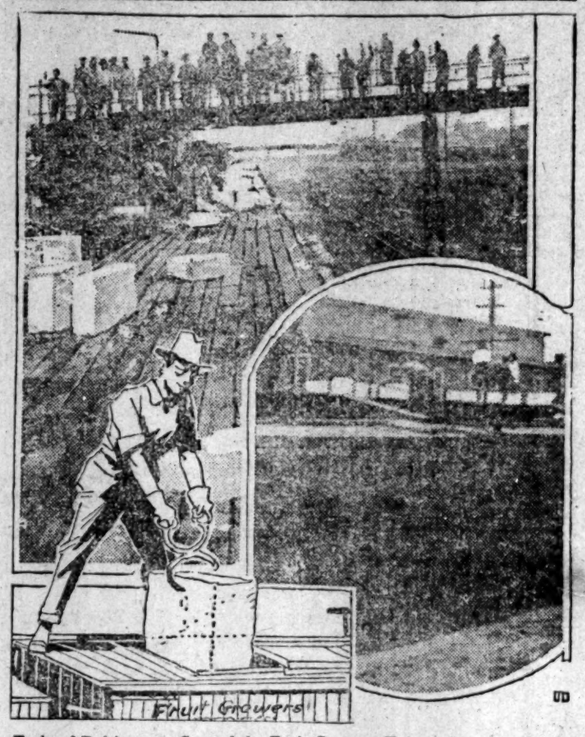
Keeping The Fruit Crop Cool



Train of Refrigerator Cars of the Fruit Growers Express from the South being re-iced at Potomac Yards, Virginia, on its way to Northern Markets

THE public lacks reliable information on what it actually means to take an orange, a grapefruit, a head of cabbage or lettuce, a bunch of celery or a box of strawberries from the warm Southern climate to the table of the Northern consumer and put it there in as fresh and edible condition as though grown in the Northern man's own back yard.

Realizing this lack of knowledge, certain officials of the companies engaged in transportation under refrigeration are seeking an official inquiry by the Interstate Commerce Commission so that the farmer who raises and ships his crop and the man in New York who buys the fruit and out-of-season vegetables may know whether they are paying fair charges for refrigeration en route to market, and whether the transportation companies can give proper services on the charges allowed by the Federal Commission.

It required over 600,000,000 pounds of ice, costing over $1,708,000 to refrigerate 25,713 carlonds by one transportation agency in moving perishable fruits and vegetables from Florida alone in the 1920-21 season, to Northern markets. This is in addition to the movement of 10,000 cars of Georgia peaches, and thousands of other cars of small fruits and vegetables under ice, from the Carolinas and Virginia.

In order to insure a sufficient and regular supply of ice for these cars, huge new ice manufacturing plants have recently been built at Jacksonville, Miami, Haines City and Lakeland, Florida, and large modern ice plants also have been constructed in the Carolinas and Virginia.

The volume of shipments under refrigeration out of Florida alone, last year, was six times that of nine years ago, and twice that of two years ago, indicating the importance of the question for the future both to producers and consumers.

In the near future the transportation companies will make an effort to have the Commission throw the light of publicity on the actual operations and all the costs involved in protecting the products of Southern fruit and vegetable growers from their farms and plantations to the tables of consumers in the North.

A SHOT AT NAPOLEON

LONDON, June 29, 1813.

We understand that in the course of the late general battle at Bantzen, the members of the British Mission to the Allied Sovereigns were at one time so near to Bonaparte's position that they could distinctly see his person with the naked eye. At this time he was on foot, and walking back and forwards, the [illegible] a short range, ap[illegible] with the [illegible] persons of his staff He wore a round hat and held his hands behind his back. Sir C. Stewart proposed to the Russian artillery officer to send a shot to enliven the apparent dullness of the imperial promenade, but the officer thought the distance beyond his range. Sir C Stewart wished to trust to Providence for the chance that a good aim might be successful, for an object so beneficial to mankind. The opportunity did not last long, for in a little time the French party moved to another point.

WE OF A. H. S.

We, the boys and girls do declare,
For A. H. S. a banner year,
And for all our rival teams
Brand new plays and wiley schemes
You can bet they're not all dreams
Our teams—they were never a joke
But this year—well just watch our smoke,
We are ready for the fight,
And we know our cause is right
And believe me—we've the might.
Strong, united, we stand now,
Confident, we make our bow,
All we ask is that you step
Close behind us with new pep,
And we'll boost our old time rep.
We will always do our best,
And to fate we'll leave the rest,
So we ask you—one and all,
Answer to our earnest call,
Get behind us—ROLL THE BALL

FRED S. PETTIT, '22.

This afternoon in the Dreadnaught park the Dreadnaught A. C., will meet the Navy Yard baseball team, in what is expected to be a good ball game. The Navy Yard boys have been going at a fast clip this season and if you want to see the real Navy Yard team in action come out, the game starts at 4 p. m.

On Sunday the Dreadnaughts will meet one of the fastest teams in the south, the Charlottesville club and they are coming here with a reputation of having defeated some of the best college teams in the south, including the University of Virginia. Snead, the mighty left hander, who pitched several games for the Dreadnaughts this season, will toe the mound for the Charlottesville nine; and if he is anywhere near his usual form you can look for a great ball game. So fans if you missed last Sunday's game don't forget this one. The game starts at 3 p. m. The line up of the Charlottesville teams is as follows: Smith, 2b; Snead, p; Thomas, 3b; Bragg, ss.; Madison, lf.; Bransom, cf.; Pain, 1b; Mooney, c; Snead pitcher.

The Triangle Sport Club will play the Rosebud A. C. Sunday on the Dreadnaught Field at 11.30 o'clock. This is the deciding game for the championship and is expected to be a hot game from the start to finish as there is much rivalry between these two clubs. Both teams will use their pitching aces, Blunt for the Triangle and Elliott for the Rosebuds. The probable line up for the Triangle follows:

Chauncey, cf.; Edwards, 3b.; Ramage, 2b; Blunt, pitcher; Davis, 1b; Duty, rf.; Pettit, lf.; Kelly, ss.; and Lawler, catcher. Remember the time, date and place and come and see the game.

Tuberculosis in Virginia

Richmond, Sept. ..—Seventy-eight active cases of tuberculosis have been found in the last five free chest clinics held by the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, and 88 cases with suspicious symptoms. Nine hundred and fifty-five cases were exabined and large numbers who attended the clinics had to be turned away because the doctor was unable to see them all. In Rockbridge county one man who was the last to be examined at one clinic was rejuested by the doctor to come the next day because the examination was not satisfactory. The patient was so anxious to do this that he worked all night in order to return the next morning. Happily the second examination proved that he did not have the disese.

In Buckingham county association nurse found when she caled on one colored patient, who had been found to have tuberculosis, that he was so anxious to follok the instructions given him for sleping out of doors that he had removed the entire side of his room and had screned it with wire against flies.

These two instances, and number of others like them, have proven the eagerness with these examinations are received and the way the doctor's and nurse's instructions are carried out.

The above clinics were held in Page, Rockbridge, Buckingham, Botetourt and Highland. A clinic wasulso held recently in Henry county, reports from which have not yet been received.

ST. LOUIS POLICE FRUSTRATE LOTTERY ON WORLD'S SERIES

St. Louis, Sept. 17.—A lottery on the attendance of the forthcoming world's series baseball games has been frustrated in the arrest of three men and confiscation of 10,000 tickets, it became known today.

The men, all residents, of this city, admitted, according to oplice, participation in the plan, but asserted no tickets had been sold. They intended to sell the tickets at $1 apiece, police say, and prizes ranging from $300 to $1,000 were to be awarded on the total gate receipts each day as reported in the newspapers. The men asserted the plan was purely a local one.

Do It Now!

So many coal consumers have delayed putting in their Winter coal this season that there will be an urgent demand when the weather gets cold which will make it impossible for the mines to produce, the railroads to haul or the dealer to handle all orders as satisfactorily as the trade will want.

It is our advice to all consumers to enter their order now and have their coal put in as promptly as possible.

GAYETY—SAM HOWE'S SHOW

A riot of laughter and applause will greet Sam Howe's new show at the Gayety Theatre tomorrow where this unusual attraction will begin a week's engagement with the usual matinees. The offering is by Sam Howe, who is responsible for the book, lyrics and music, and he has done his work exceptionally well. Mr. Howe calls his effusion a Revusical Fable and from all accounts the appellation seems well applied, Heading a cast out of the ordinary are Cliff Bragdon, Helen Tarr and Harry Leff. This is Mr. Bragdon's second season with the company and his talents need little introduction. In the new piece he has a part which seems to fit his personality and comedy gifts to a nicety. As John Carbolicorn, the proprietor of the Busy Bee, a thriving drug store of modern design, he makes very much of his role and creates no amount of hearty and rollicking laughter.

Mr. Bragdon, who may be styled eccentric in the way of methods, makes a hit of large proportions and establishes himself as a favorite and a comedian to be conjured with.

Regarding Miss Tarr, she is a clever and unusually attractive woman whose statuesque beauty adds a zest to the performance which is smooth and replete with that kind of interpretation which spells success in any environment. Miss Tarr impersonates a young widow, an heiress who has been kidnapped in her childhood. She is the daughter of the late Phineas Prune, a multi-millionaire and after a series of side splitting complications she is identified by a star and crescent on her wonderful back. As Slippery Sam, a thief, Mr. Bragdon manages to keep the action going from start to finish, his disguise of an old maid clerk of uncertain age at the Martha Washington Hotel, New York, being one of the most mirthful and rollicking bits of comedy ever witnessed hereabouts. The song numbers are tuneful and lingering, and run the gamut of waltz to the inevitable jazz.

BEFORE AND AFTER CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work.

I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimonial if you think it will help others."—Mrs. CARRIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring women to health who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues." Today there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been made well by it. That is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.
